

A TRADITION OF EXCELLENCE

This year Kemichal® reaches an important goal: the 60th anniversary of its foundation.

It was founded in 1962 as a small company that produces and markets paints, thinners and dyes, specializing in the wood sector. With deep commitment and great passion, the company achieved considerable development over the years, boasting numerous successes. It consolidates its presence on the national market and also strongly develops the international one, now the main sales reference. It also expands into other sectors such as glass, metal and other specific supports. With dedication and professionally, it manages to stand out and grow in productivity and efficiency, always high maintaining the due attention to respect for the environment.

The company ensures its quality system according to the UNI EN ISO 9001 standard and over time also obtains important certifications on its products. The one concerning the water cycle for external uses in compliance with the EN 927-2 standard and the additional requirements set out in the technical specifications, issued by the CATAS Institute, which provides for checks and execution of periodic technical tests on the product and on the business organizational and production processes. A further obtained certification is the fire resistance one for the OCV869RF acrylic paint, both in the transparent and multicolor cycle, by the Giordano Institute with reference to the UNI EN 13501-1: 2019 standard, with classification B - s1, d0.

Kemichal is able to satisfy a wide range of customers, creating a vast assortment of products for different cycles of use: two-component and water-soluble paints, both for interiors and exteriors, high-performance UV paints, specific products for the parquet sector, dyes and special effects for many kinds of support, with reference to the KEMIART catalog. Among the offered services, Kemichal provides a tintometric system, the KCS 4.0 Kemilac Color System, complete with formulas, converters and pastes, both solvent and water, and all the necessary tools for realizing of the color: the connected automatic dispensers and air-system tintometers. Integrated with KEMISPECTRO, composed by laptop and spectrophotometer, it guarantees maximum reliability and precision, thanks to its system for reading the colorimetric curve with the formulation software.

Tradizione & INNOVAZIONE

A professional and skilled team allows to face every challenge and difficulty with confidence and success. Thanks to the experience of reliable collaborators, the know-how of technicians specialized in the research and development of new products and the precious contribution of highly qualified consultants and suppliers, it has been able to respond to market changes and the advancement of new technologies, anticipating customer needs, to the point of satisfying the most particular requests.

The continuous support and trust placed by loyal customers and retailers play a fundamental role and have made it possible to celebrate the 60th anniversary this year. Kemichal will continue, with passionate dedication and enthusiasm, to strengthen and expand its relationships with the entire sales network, to consolidate and relaunch the future of the company.

Tradition and innovation: Kemichal treasures the great experience acquired and always proposes itself with renewed enthusiasm in facing the future challenges that the market offers.

The goal of maintaining high standards of performance and its commitment to excellence will be constant and unchanged, rigorously MADE IN ITALY. All information is available and can be consulted on website www.kemichal.it

Source: Kemichal
For further information please write to: info@finishing.it

